Back Up Your Computer For Your Sanity!

How many of us have lost or known someone who has lost everything when their computer crashed? Unfortunately, we don't usually know when our computer is going to suddenly decide to kick the bucket with little or no warning. And it can be incredibly disheartening to lose everything, from pictures and videos to work or important documents.

iMoneyCoach would like to share this website, the Online Backups Review, that compares a variety of online backup sites and gives you links to each. If you click on the Recommendation tab of the site, it will help you figure out which service would be best for your particular needs.

It is a relatively inexpensive thing to do. Recovering a crashed hard drive can cost several hundred dollars! And it takes much less time than trying to recover files and rebuild your computer after a crash.

If you decide not to use an online backup service, it may be a good idea to go ahead and buy an external drive or flash drive that you can put your important files on. These are available at your local Best Buy or Office Depot.
