A Great Career Assessment Tool

"Every day I get up and look through the Forbes list of the richest people in America. If I'm not there, I go to work." ~Robert Orben

Many people who are surveyed about employment answer that they are not happy with their jobs. If you are one of those people and are thinking about a new career, consider these ideas:

- Take The CALL Career Assessment, a great tool that not only measures your skills and talents, but takes into consideration what motivates you. It is one of the best career assessment tools we have seen. iMoneyCoach has been working with The CALL for a couple of years now, and we are able to offer 6 assessments at a GREAT deal for $65 each. Order your assessment from iMoneyCoach here. You can also find The CALL at <http://thecallonline.com/>.
- Talk to people in the field, see what they like and dislike about their career and how they got into their current position. Get the perspective of someone who works in that same field to see if it is something you might enjoy longterm.
- Look to things you love. Maybe that hobby you enjoy so much could turn into a source of income. Try to see if you can turn your passion into profit. For example, if you love gardening, you could work in a garden center or start a landscaping business. Do make sure that it is something you can make money doing before you eliminate your original source of income.

And here are some quotes we'd like to share about work and motivation:

"When people go to work, they shouldn't have to leave their hearts at home." ~Betty Bender

"Nothing is really work unless you would rather be doing something else." ~James Matthew Barrie

"Choose a job you love, and you will never have to work a day in your life." ~Confucius

"For many people a job is more than an income - it's an important part of who we are. So a career transition of any sort is one of the most unsettling experiences you can face in your life." ~ Paul Clitheroe

"Adults are always asking little kids what they want to be when they grow up because they're looking for ideas." ~Paula Poundstone
