

An "iMoneyMinute" is an idea that in less than one minute will give you a way to save time, save money, make money, or reduce your financial risk.

We know how important internet access is, and with a surge in laptop and PDA usage, finding free internet access when you are on the go is gaining importance. Many companies realize this need and offer free Wi-Fi (wireless internet connection) to their customers.

McDonald's has recently announced that many of its locations will be offering free Wi-Fi, and you don't have to make a purchase to use this free service! Just walk in, fire up your laptop, and you're on. To find a McDonald's near you that offers Wi-Fi service, go here.

McDonald's is just one of the many locations now offering free Wi-Fi. Check out these links to search for free Wi-Fi connections near you:
